pecial Dispatch to The BER. CINCINNATI, June 18 .- The onl boom which loomed up yesterday has taken shape, with headquarters and an organized bureau and all the parapharnalia of a regular contest floated from the Gibson house for two or three days. There has been no bolsterous demonstration thus far, and no speech making, because the number of delegates present has been too light to warrant speech making. The work, however, has been prosults according to the managers. The headquarters are in charge of Hon. Judge Field's partner in San Fran-California, one of the strongest of Judge Field's friends, with him for a candidtaz, the democrats can sweep the Pareinforced to-day by more of the Califormia delegates, and they now expect to make a fermidable showing on the first ballot. bama, Georgia, Tennessee and Virginia; Maine and a part of the New England states; many from New York and scattering votes from other states. Should Thurman withdraw from the contest, or should he not be shead on that ballet, it is believed by Judge Field's supporters that many of those votes would gravitate to him, especially those from West Virginia.

They reckon upon the assumption that the Ohio delegat on are more determined this time to cast their votes for the strongest candidate than to urge the claims of one of her own zons, under the belief that Ohio democrats will vote for any man as heartily as for an Chio man, and that therehey will only vote for Thurman on three ballots, and that when they get | terday just before starting for Cincinready to change Field will be so strong in favor that the Ohio votes will be given for him rather than for Payne ted to the convention. He did not or Jewett. Then, too, they gain courage from the fact that, though Mr. Tilden cannot probably be nominsted, his influence is still powerful, and while filden is known to be antagonized to Seymour, and Tilden himself is known to have spoken in opposition to Bayard, Thurman, Hendricks and others in private conversation, he

During its deliberations a member moved to instruct delegates for him, whereupon another member moved to instruct for Tilden. Then, in order to preserve harmony, a motion was carried to lay both motions upon the table. Immediately after this the convention chose almost unanimously Field delegates-at-large. Thus the convention was controlled by the Field men in his interest, and in response to the wishes of the party in the State. In California a majority of the convention, as well as a majority of the people were for Field; but, as a matter of policy, it was determined beforehand not to instruct delegates. A blunder in the proceed ings of the convention made it appear in opposition to him, but still nine, and perhaps ten, of the twelve delegates are known to be for Field, and and W. A. I., June 18, 1 a. m -Probably the city of Providence never saw so many people within its limits as gathered on the banks of the Seekonk river yesterday. The num-ber is variously estimated at from 40,000 to 100,000. They came by rail, boat, sail-boat, barge, steamer and every mode of conveyance. It was a peaceable crowd, all intent on seeing the great race, but the proportion that satutest politicians here as the very had any definite idea of who started, rowed or finished, was remarkably small, as the river was crowded with crafts of all description, whose occupants thought the best position for observing the race was between the grand stands, of which there were a dozen or more, and the course. The press facilities were poor, also, for the reason of the inefficient, or rather utter want of, policing of the course.

THE AMATEUR RACE. The men were called at a few min utes after 4 p. m., and seven respondderstood that he intends to do volun-ther service for Bayard and secure his Murray, of Portsmouth, Va.; Gaisel,

The men were kept in line waiting, 111 4:20, when they got away at the firing of a pistol, Holmes nearest the next end Holmes next, the others straggling out behind. Murphy soon overhauled Hayden, and cut out his work, but his stroke was uneven and the pace too fast for him, as wes soon seen when Holmes put on speed and the idea that Tilden has made peace passed the leader and went ahead at a pace that showed early in the struggle HERO OF THEM ALL. As for Murphy, he was out of the race, being far in the rear of them all. Meanwhile Laing, Buckley and Gaisel were having a lively struggle among themselves, which resulted in favor of Gaisel, who made a noble effort to spurt himself alongside the Pawtucket sculler, but the latter was too strong for him. LONDON, June 18, 1 a. m .- The This trouble, and the tardiness of house of commons was yesterday again thrown into somewhat of a commotion by the pressing endeavors of Mr. O'Donnell to move further in his question regarding the personal and political history and alleged misdemeanors of M. Chollamel LaCour, the new French ambassador to London. O'Donnell's question to be put to the house, and after much time being taken up by the latter in fencing and filibustering efforts to gain some advantage in the dispute, the speaker said, with much dignity: "If the member persists in the disorganization of the chair I will name him before the house." This is an ancient form of threat which has never been put into execution, but one that is popularly believed to be attended with very serious consequences. After some further parliamentary wrangle, in which the sympathies of the house were evidently against Mr. O'Donnell, he became greatly chagrined a his non-success and walked out of the REMARKABLE LETTER FROM A CELEBRATED PHYSICIAN. street, $1,400. Half lot on Cass, between 13th and 14th street Bryan, Texas, June 11, 1875.

J. C. Bichardson, St. Louis—Dear Stringly boy, 2 years old, had fever every other day, or every third day, for about 2 months. I used as much as 12 grains of Quinine during the day, but with no effect; tried Cinchonia (alkaloid) Sulph. Cinchonidia, Salucine, etc., etc., but the boy got worse all the time. I reluctantly sent down to my drug store for your Febrifuge, and I write just to say that he never had a symptom of fever after commencing Febrifuge, to date, being now over a month ago. I feel that I ought to say this much in behalf of your medicine. Am a regular M. D., but retired from practice 3 years ago and devoting my time to drug business.

Verf respectfully.
